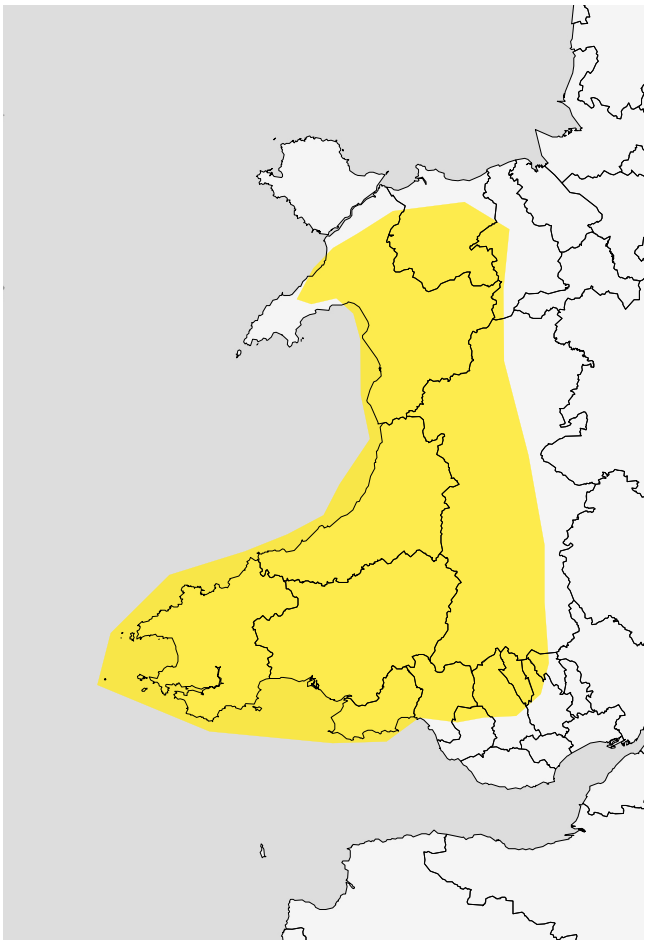
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
06:00 Sun 21 Jan 2024 and
06:00 Mon 22 Jan 2024



Heavy rain is likely to lead to disruption from flooding across parts of Wales on Sunday and early Monday.

What to expect

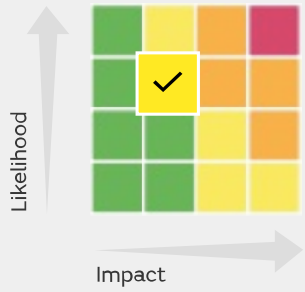
- Flooding of a few homes and businesses is likely
- Bus and train services probably affected with journey times taking longer
- Spray and flooding on roads probably making journey times longer
- Some interruption to power supplies and other services likely

Further details

Spells of heavy rain, combined with strong winds at times, will move across Wales over the weekend and into early Monday. The heaviest rain is expected over hills during Sunday with 20-50 mm falling widely and the potential for peaks of 80-100 mm, most likely over Eryri (Snowdonia). Milder conditions will also result in the thaw of lying snow.

What should I do?

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding.



Medium likelihood of low impacts

If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
